DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-40 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Claims 1, 15, and 28 recite in part that the first lever automatically stops at a plurality of positions corresponding to gear positions of the bicycle transmission. However, the specification only states that, "the spacing of positioning teeth 134 is such that the distance between adjacent positioning teeth 134 corresponds to the amount of pulling of inner cable 102 required to move the derailleur from one sprocket to another." Just moving the derailleur from one sprocket to another is not the same automatically stopping at a plurality of gear positions.

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 1-40 and 43 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 1, 15, and 28 are indefinite because it is unclear how the first lever automatically stops at a plurality of positions corresponding to gear positions of the bicycle transmission. The specification only states that “the spacing of positioning teeth 134 is such that the distance between adjacent positioning teeth 134 corresponds to the amount of pulling of inner cable 102 required to move the derailleur from one sprocket to another.”

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claims 41 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kobayashi (US 5,104,358).

Kobayashi discloses a bicycle control apparatus comprising: a mounting member (15) adapted to mount the bicycle control apparatus to a bicycle; a positioning unit (11) coupled to the mounting member for moving to a plurality of positions; and a positioning member (10) that maintains the positioning unit in each of the plurality of positions, wherein the positioning member comprises a material that deforms in response to excessive force applied between the positioning member and the positioning unit to release the positioning unit from a maintained position (col. 2 lines 8-24).

Re claim 42, a first lever (shift lever, not shown) operatively coupled to the positioning unit so that the positioning unit moves in response to movement of the first lever.

7. Claims 41-45, 47, and 49-58, 70, 72-78, 90, 91 and 93 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Nagano (US 5,203,213).

Nagano discloses a bicycle control apparatus comprising: a mounting member (B) adapted to mount the bicycle control apparatus to a bicycle; a positioning unit (2) coupled to the mounting member for moving to a plurality of positions; and a positioning member (32, 33) that maintains the positioning unit in each of the plurality of positions, wherein the positioning member comprises a material (33) that deforms in response to excessive force applied between the positioning member and the positioning unit to release the positioning unit from a maintained position, a motion limiting member (64) that limits movement of the positioning unit in response to movement of the second lever.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 71, 79-89, and 92 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to the claims have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
